11 Входной контроль

11.1 Цель входного контроля − определить начальный уровень подготовленности обучающихся и выстроить индивидуальную траекторию обучения. В условиях личностно-ориентированной образовательной среды результаты входного оценивания обучающегося используются как начальные значения в индивидуальном профиле академической успешности обучающегося.

11.2 Описание оценочных средств

Форма проведения входного контроля – тестирование.

Длительность тестирования – 20 минут.

Тестирование проводится в течение первых двух недель изучения учебной дисциплины в СУО СибГИУ.

Для проведения тестирования используются тестовые задания для входного контроля (для ответа на 1 вопрос, как правило, выделяется 1 минута).

Шкала оценивания результатов тестирования

За каждый правильный ответ выставляется 1 балл. Оценка выставляется в зависимости от процента правильных ответов:

Оценка формируется в соответствии с критериями таблицы:

Процент результативности (правильных ответов)	Оценка
86 до 100	«отлично»
от 67до 85	«хорошо»
от 50 до 66	«удовлетворительно»
менее 50	«неудовлетворительно»

Основываясь на результатах тестирования, формируется индивидуальная траектория обучающегося (группы обучающихся), исходя из следующих соображений:

– 86 – 100 % – обучающийся готов к изучению учебной дисциплины без дополнительного повторения изученного ранее материала;

– 50 – 67 % – обучающийся в целом готов к изучению учебной дисциплины, требуется повторение отдельных вопросов(тем) изученного ранее материала, необходимого для успешного освоения учебной дисциплины;

– 49% и менее – обучающийся имеет слабую подготовку к изучению учебной дисциплины, необходимы корректирующие занятия и консультации.

Тестовые задания для входного контроля знаний обучающихся приведены в приложении.

12 Текущий контроль

12.1 Текущий контроль знаний используется для оперативного и регулярного управления учебной деятельностью (в том числе самостоятельной) обучающихся. Данный вид контроля стимулирует у обучающихся стремление к систематической самостоятельной работе по изучению учебной дисциплины и позволяет оценить степень освоения изученного материала.

Текущий контроль успеваемости осуществляется в течение семестра, в ходе повседневной учебной работы по индивидуальной инициативе педагогического работника, в том числе посредством использования СУО СибГИУ.

Формы проведения текущего контроля – диалог; контрольно-тренировочные упражнения; наблюдение за работой на практическом занятии; перевод и работа с текстом; презентация; тестовые задания.

12.2 Описание оценочных средств

Шкалы оценивания (методики оценки)

12.2.1 Рекомендации по оцениванию результатов тестирования обучающихся

Тестирование проводится по изученным разделам (темам) учебной дисциплины для выявления уровня умений и знаний обучающегося, мотивирования обучающегося к активизации самостоятельной работы по усвоению учебного материала, выявления и устранения пробелов в знаниях, повышения дисциплины и организации учебной деятельности обучающегося.

Тестирование проводится в СУО СибГИУ в рамках часов, отведенных на самостоятельную работу обучающихся. Для тестирования используется не менее 20 вопросов из базы типовых тестовых заданий по изученным разделам (темам) учебной дисциплины. В случае выбора неправильного ответа обучающийся получает за данный вопрос 0 баллов; в случае правильного ответа – 1 балл; в заданиях на соответствие за каждый правильный ответ – 0,5 баллов.

Оценка формируется в соответствии с критериями таблицы:

Максимальный балл	Проходной балл	Оценка
20	не менее 18	отлично
17	не менее 14	хорошо
13	не менее 10	удовлетворительно
9	–	неудовлетворительно

12.2.2 Рекомендации по оцениванию в процессе наблюдения за работой на практическом занятии

Наблюдение за работой на практическом занятии – важнейший компонент контроля деятельности обучающихся и качества их обучения.

Критерии оценки в процессе наблюдения за работой на практическом занятии:

– самостоятельность выполнения задания и работы с методическими указаниями (учитывается работа в течение занятия, быстрота и способность нахождения в методических указаниях нужной информации);

– правильность выполнения работы (учитывается последовательность выполняемых действий, умение работать с инструментами и/или средствами вычислительной техники);

– рациональность использования времени, отведенного на задание (не одобряется затянутость выполнения работы с учетом индивидуальных особенностей обучающихся);

– активность обучающегося при выполнении практической работы (учитывается индивидуальная работа и работа в группе).

Критерии оценки по результатам наблюдения за работой на практическом занятии

Наименование параметра оценки	Максимальное количество баллов
Самостоятельно выполняет задания; умеет работать с методическими указаниями.	2,5
Указанные в методических указаниях действия выполняет в правильной последовательности; умеет работать с инструментами и/или средствами вычислительной техники.	1,25
Рационально использует время, отведенное на задание; проявляет активность при выполнении практической работы.	1,25
Итого	5

Максимальное количество – 5 баллов соответствует оценке «отлично», 4 балла – «хорошо», 3 балла – «удовлетворительно», 2 балла – «неудовлетворительно».

12.2.3 Рекомендации по оцениванию выполнения контрольно-тренировочных упражнений

Контрольно-тренировочные упражнения – упражнения / задания по грамматике и лексике, а также по развитию речевой деятельности, выполняемые студентами самостоятельно с использованием справочников, словарей и методических указаний.

Критерии оценки грамматических/лексических упражнений

Процент выполнения	Баллы	Оценка
100-80%	50-40	отлично
79-65%	39-32	хорошо
64-45%	31-22	удовлетворительно
менее 45%	менее 22	неудовлетворительно

12.2.4 Рекомендации по оцениванию выполнения презентации

Презентация – средство или метод, который используют в обучении (особенно иностранным языка) и подготовке работников и специалистов для представления информации.

Рекомендации по оцениванию

Exercise 7. Read the cover letter, translate it and write your own cover letter.

Dear Mr. Fish,
Re: Fitness Instructor Vacancy
I am writing to apply for the job of Fitness Instructor, as advertised in Monday's Courier newspaper. This is an ideal job for me given my enthusiasm for sport, my related experience and qualifications.

Sport and fitness training have always been important to me, which is why I chose to take a BTEC Diploma in Sports Science. I am a confident user of Microsoft Office and have worked extensively with Fitness Line, a program for analyzing fitness.
As you can see from my CV, I've taken the opportunity to gain extra qualifications that were on offer at college, which has helped me get part-time work as a pool attendant. I'm called on to provide cover during busy times so am used to working irregular hours at short notice. I've also run a lunchtime aerobics class at college since the start of this year.
I finish college in six weeks and am keen to find a job rather than carry on with further full-time study. I could start any part time work or training sooner as many of my classes are finishing and most of my assignments are done. I look forward to hearing from you.
Yours sincerely,
Joanne T.

How to Win Job Interviews?
Here are four major job interview tips that can really help.

1._____
You should be a)_____ at a job interview simply because you got the interview. Someone saw something in your b)_____, your online presence or they heard something about you that made them invite you in for an interview. This means you at least have a chance to show them why you're the c)_____ for their needs. If you don't walk in believing in yourself, it's going to be a lot tougher to make them believe in you.

2. _____
Even though it might feel like the interview is all about you, it's really about the d)_____. The employer has a role to fill at its organisation. That role will perform specific tasks for the organisation and will therefore require, whomever fills, it to bring certain e)_____ to the table. You must remember to focus your conversation on learning their needs and explaining how you've got what they need.

3. _____
To focus on how you've got what they need, you should talk about the stuff you're good at that would allow you to f)_____ that they need filled. Focusing on your g)_____ — what you're good at and bring to the table — will help to get this message across. Do not focus on the parts of the job that are your h)_____. Don't even bring them up. Dwelling on what you don't bring to the table will only hurt you. For all you know, they've decided those specific details in the i)_____ aren't really that important anyway. If they bring up your weaknesses, discuss them (see below) but then return to focusing on what you do bring to the table.

4. _____

Try to be absolutely j)_____ about what you bring to the table and what you don't. But concentrate mainly on what you do bring. If your interviewers ask about something you'd prefer not to talk about, don't panic! Just be honest. They may decide that you're still k)_____ despite any weaknesses. Maybe it's a small weakness that you could even l)_____ before you start the job.

Nowadays money is taken for granted. But what would happen if we didn't have money? We would have to get back to a)_____. It is the process of directly exchanging one good or service for another. If there was no money, we would need at least a b)_____ of wants to barter everything.

The Evolution of Money

Money appeared as an alternative to the complexity of barter. It can be any thing that has c)_____ in an economic community. Historically, such things were shells, stone disks, gold, coins and bank notes.

In the Middle Ages, people usually used d)_____. However, large amounts of gold were very heavy, and people began depositing them for safekeeping with e)_____ who charged a fee for their services and issued receipts, or gold notes, in the amount of the deposits. To exchange such receipts was much simpler and safer than carrying around gold coins. Those goldsmiths were the f)_____ to our modern banking system.

Functions of Money

Let's focus on three major functions of money:

• a medium of exchange
• a measure of value
• a store of value.

With money no barter is needed. We can use money to buy and sell things directly instead of searching for people with suitable wants. Such strategy encourages g)_____ and promotes economic efficiency.

As a measure of value, money makes h)_____ significantly simpler. Instead of determining the value of each good i)_____ all other goods, markets only need to determine the price of each good in terms of money. This helps j)_____ the number of prices significantly.

Money can also serve as a store of value, since it can quickly be exchanged for desired goods and services. Such k)_____ sometimes demands additional transaction costs.

In fact, holding money is a l)_____ because it includes some risks as well. For example, money is a very unsafe store of value during inflation. And it can be stolen or forged.

1.) What is a barter?

The World of Professions

Choosing a career is one of the most important and tough decisions people will ever make in life. According to Confucius, "Find a job you love and you will never work a day in your life." It is absolutely true. If you are passionate about your work, you have more chances to succeed.

Well, choosing a proper career is a conscious decision of a grown-up person, and it is essential to explore job options that match your interests, skills and knowledge. It is absolutely wrong to chase your parents' dreams. If you are not interested to work in a field they want you do, always stand your ground. It is high time for you to decide for yourself what to do for living and to find your real calling. Moreover, when you make a choice, it is also important to get appropriate education that will give you all the necessary skills, knowledge and practical awareness.

Today there are a lot of job options to choose from out there. Anyway, the choice of professions depends on people's individual abilities and talents. Some people have dreams of becoming a doctor and saving people's lives, others like cooking and become master chefs. There are people, for instance, who like taking care of animals, and therefore become veterinary surgeons. Some people have a talent for painting and are not good at the other things. It is not difficult to guess that they become painters, designers or architects. All in all, today the most popular jobs are office clerks, policemen, teachers, waitresses, hairstylists, drivers and some others.

As far as I am concerned, I want to start my own business and open my own travel agency. I am too independent and enterprising to work for an employer. The idea of doing a nine-to-five job does not appeal me at all. One of the reasons I want to set up my own business or become self-employed is independence. To begin with, I can earn money working from home and spend more time with family and friends. Secondly, I can choose any work schedule that suits me best. Thirdly, if you are your own boss, you avoid the stressful daily commute and traffic jams. Furthermore, self-employed people tend to have an extended vacation. Finally, my success depends on me and my own decisions.

Some people think that getting a good salary is more important than having the job you really want. I am convinced that an enjoyable job equals a worthy salary. For instance, people can turn their hobby into a profitable business and earn decent money from home. Besides, people spend too much time at work and it is wrong to waste time on unpleasant things.

English as a World Language

The modern world is becoming smaller all the time. Every day distances between different countries seem less. For this reason it's becoming more and more important to know different languages, especially English. One billion people speak English today. That's about 20% of the world's population.

400 million people speak English as their first language. For the other 600 million people it's either a second language or a foreign language. English is the first language in the United Kingdom, the United States of America, Australia and New Zealand. It is one of the official languages in Canada, the Irish Republic and the Republic of South Africa.

As a second language English is spoken in more than 60 countries. It is used by the government, businessmen and universities. English is the language of politics and diplomacy, science and technology, business and trade, sport and pop music.
80% of all information in the world's computers is in English.
75% of the world's letters and faxes are in English.
60% of all international telephone calls are made in English.
More than 60% of all scientific journals are written in English.

To know English today is absolutely necessary for every educated person, for every good specialist. Learning a language is not an easy thing. It's a long and slow process that takes a lot of time and patience. But it's a must.

English is taught throughout the world and a lot of people speak it quite well. In our country English is very popular: it is studied at schools (sometimes even at nursery schools), colleges and universities.

We all need to understand each other. To do that we need an international language, and that's English.

English is a world language. It is the language of progressive science and technology, trade and cultural relations, commerce and business. It's the language of international aviation, shipping and sports. It's also the major language of diplomacy. Geographically it is the most widespread language on earth, second only to Chinese in the number of people who speak it hearing a foreign language is not an easy thing. It's a long and slow process that takes a lot of time and practice. A foreign language is not just a subject learnt in the classrooms. It's something which is used in real life situations.

There are many reasons why we begin to study foreign languages. First of all it's an effective medium of international communication. I'm convinced if we are working in any brunch of science we must read books and magazines in other languages. Learning foreign languages opens up opportunities and careers that didn't even exits some years ago. Knowing foreign languages can help us to find a job in such fields as science and technology, foreign trade and banking, international transportation communication, teaching librarian science and others. A more general aim is to make our intellectual and cultures. Learning a foreign language including learning also culture, traditions and mode of thought of different people. Of course speaking and writing in a foreign language is a difficult art and it has to be learned. Needless to say that English has become very popular today. About 350 million people speak English as its first language.

As for me, I'm completely convinced that to know a foreign language is absolutely necessary for all educated person and modern specialists. Everything depends on our own efforts.

Questions:

1. When did you begin learning English?
2. It is easy to learn foreign languages?
3. Which language in the world is spoken by most people?
4. Why is it necessary to learn English?
5. Why is English not an easy language to learn?
6. What advantages have the people who know foreign languages?
7. What was the process of learning?

Workplace Safety

Workplace Safety and health laws establish regulations designed to eliminate personal injuries and illnesses from occurring in the workplace. Workplace safety refers to the working environment at a company and encompasses all factors that impact the safety, health, and well-being of its employees; this covers managers, supervisors, partners, stockholders, officers, and family members of the workers. It does not cover independent contractors or family members of a farm operator. Safety violations can include environmental hazards, unsafe working conditions or processes, drug and alcohol abuse, and workplace violence.

The leading authority administering workplace safety is the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA). OSHA requires the Secretary of Labor to propagate regulations and safety and health standards to protect employees from having to work in dangerous or hazardous conditions. Every private employer who engages in interstate commerce is subject to OSHA regulations. Standards made by OSHA are published in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR).

The federal guidelines imposed by OSHA are complemented by state regulations, although federal laws and regulations pre-empt state laws where they 11 overlap or contradict one another. Under OSHA, states can pass their own workplace health and safety laws and standards, but they must meet OSHA criteria and approval if they regulate an area directly covered by OSHA regulations. Though, they may regulate in areas not governed by federal OSHA regulations. The amount of state regulation varies greatly. States with their own workplace conditions law are called “state plan states”. Penalties for OSHA violations can be civil or criminal and vary depending on the nature of the violation. OSHA must refer cases to the U.S. Justice Department for criminal enforcement. Typically, however, OSHA relies on civil penalties as a deterrent to violators.

Construction workers build our roads, houses and workplaces and repair and maintain our nation's physical infrastructure. This work includes many hazardous tasks and conditions such as work at height, excavations, noise, dust, power tools and equipment, confined spaces and electricity. Construction workers incurred the most fatal injuries of any industry in the private sector in 2009, but this number declined in both 2009 (by 16%) and 2008 (by 19%). With this decrease, private sector construction fatalities are down by more than a third overall since peaking in 2006. Economic conditions may explain much of this decline – the total hours worked in construction also went down 17 per cent in 2009 and 10 per cent the year before. These decreases were more pronounced in some construction subgroups. Fatal injuries involving workers in the construction of buildings, for example, were down more than a quarter (27%) from 2008, with most of the decrease occurring in nonresidential building construction (down 44%). Fatalities in heavy and civil engineering construction were down 12 per cent, and the subsector with the largest number of fatal work injuries – specialty trade contractors – had 16 per cent fewer fatalities in 2009 than in 2008.

In 2010, there were approximately 17.5 million workers less than 24 years of age, and these workers represented 13% of the workforce. Young workers have high occupational injury rates which are in part explained by a high frequency of injury hazards in workplaces where they typically work (e.g. hazards in restaurant settings associated with slippery floors and use of knives and cooking equipment). Inexperience and lack of safety training may also increase injury risks for young workers. And, for the youngest workers, those in middle and high schools, there may be biologic and psychosocial contributors to increased injury rates, such as inadequate fit, strength, and cognitive abilities to operate farm equipment such as tractors. In 2009, 359 workers less than 24 years of age died from work-related injuries, including 27 deaths of youth less than 18 years of age. For the 10 year period 1998 to 2007, there were an annual average of 795,000 nonfatal injuries to young workers treated in U.S. hospital injury departments. The rate for emergency department-treated occupational injuries of young workers was approximately two times higher than among workers 25 years and older.

The U.S. Public Health Service has a Healthy People objective to reduce rates of occupational injuries treated in emergency departments among working adolescents 15-19 years of 12 age by 10% by 2020, from the 2007 rate of 4.9 injuries per 100 fulltime equivalent workers. Hazards to outdoor workers. Outdoor workers are exposed to many types of hazards that depend on their type of work, geographic region, season, and duration of time they are outside.

Industry sectors with outdoor workers include the agriculture, forestry, fishing, construction, mining, transportation, warehousing, utilities, and service sectors. Outdoor workers include farmers, foresters, landscapers, groundskeepers, gardeners, painters, roofers, pavers, construction workers, laborers, mechanics, and any other worker who spends time outside. Employers should train outdoor workers about their workplace hazards, including hazard identification and recommendations for preventing and controlling their exposures.

Operation of a Haul Truck

A haul truck is a large, heavy-duty vehicle used primarily in mining and construction to transport large quantities of materials such as ore, coal, or soil. Operating a haul truck requires skill, attention, and strict adherence to safety procedures.

Before starting the haul truck, the operator conducts a thorough pre-operation inspection. This includes checking tire pressure, brakes, lights, fluid levels, and the condition of the dump bed. Ensuring all safety devices, such as seat belts and backup alarms, are functional is also essential.

Once the inspection is complete, the operator starts the engine and carefully maneuvers the truck to the loading area. Loading must be done evenly to maintain balance and prevent tipping. After loading, the operator drives the truck along designated routes to the dumping site, following speed limits and traffic rules within the mining area.

During operation, the operator must remain alert to obstacles, other vehicles, and changing terrain conditions. Communication with spotters and other workers is crucial to avoid accidents. When arriving at the dumping site, the operator positions the truck safely, raises the dump bed, and unloads the material efficiently.

After completing the haul, the operator returns the truck to the designated parking area and performs a post-operation check to identify any maintenance needs or damage.
Overall, operating a haul truck demands responsibility, technical knowledge, and a commitment to safety to ensure efficient and secure transportation of materials in mining and construction environments.

Exercise2. Answer the following questions.

1. What is the primary purpose of a haul truck?
2. In which industries are haul trucks commonly used?
3. What should the operator check during the pre-operation inspection?
4. Why is it important to ensure safety devices like seat belts and backup alarms are working?
5. How should the loading of materials be done to maintain safety?
6. What rules must the operator follow when driving the haul truck within the mining area?
7. Why is communication with spotters and other workers important during operation?
8. What steps does the operator take when unloading materials at the dumping site?
9. What should the operator do after completing the haul?
10. What qualities and skills are necessary for operating a haul truck safely and efficiently?

Mining equipment plays a crucial role in the extraction of minerals and resources from the earth. It includes a wide range of machines and tools designed to make mining operations safer, faster, and more efficient. Some of the most common types of mining equipment are drills, excavators, loaders, haul trucks, and conveyor belts.
Drills are used to create holes in the rock for blasting or sampling. Excavators and loaders help remove large amounts of earth and ore. Haul trucks transport the extracted materials from the mining site to processing plants. Conveyor belts are often used to move materials over long distances within the mine.
Modern mining equipment is often equipped with advanced technology such as GPS, automation, and remote control systems. These innovations improve precision and reduce the risks for workers. Safety features are also a top priority, helping to prevent accidents in hazardous mining environments.
Overall, mining equipment is essential for the success of mining projects. The main operations in mining involve a series of carefully planned stages that transform mineral deposits into usable materials. The mining process typically includes the following key steps:

Prospecting and exploration

This initial stage involves locating potential mineral deposits using geological surveys, satellite images, and sampling. Techniques such as core drilling help assess the size, grade, and value of the deposit.

Planning and design

After exploration confirms the deposit's viability, detailed mine planning takes place. This includes evaluating environmental, social, and economic factors, designing the mine layout, and securing permits and funding.

Development

In this phase, access to the mineral deposit is established by building roads, tunnels, or open pits. Infrastructure such as power supply and worker facilities is also set up.

Production (Extraction)

The actual mining begins with extracting ore from the earth. This can be done by surface mining (removing overburden to reach deposits) or underground mining (digging tunnels). Techniques like drilling, blasting, loading, and hauling are used to break and transport the ore.

Processing and beneficiation

Extracted ore is crushed and processed to separate valuable minerals from waste rock. This includes crushing, grinding, concentration, and smelting to produce usable metal or mineral products.

Closure and reclamation

After mining ends, the site is rehabilitated to minimize environmental impact. This involves removing hazardous materials, restoring landforms, planting vegetation, and ensuring water quality and public safety.

These operations require coordination of advanced equipment, skilled personnel, and strict safety and environmental standards. Together, they form the mining lifecycle that supports resource extraction while aiming for sustainable development.

Exercise 2. Answer the following questions.

1. What is the purpose of the prospecting and exploration stage in mining?
2. What factors are considered during the planning and design phase of a mining project?

Kinds of Companies

There are many kinds of companies: private companies, family-owned and multinational companies. They work in different business sectors: transport, engineering, retailing, construction, tourism, banking etc. Peugeot, for instance, is a French car manufacturer which supplies cars. Bacardi Martini is a Spanish drinks supplier which supplies champagne and vine. Microsoft is an American IT-company, which developing Windows operating system and other software.

I would like to say some words about Microsoft. This company was founded by Bill Gates in late 70s. Being one of the most successful and profitable companies in the world, they spend a lot on charity. Bill and his wife Melinda opened Melinda and Bill Gates Foundation organization, which helps poor citizens of Africa staying alive.

So, if you want to be as successful as Bill you should follow these tips:

- start with a simple business idea that is easy to understand
- have some good designers who also understand production
- have a strong company culture

Those are only basic keys and of course, what works for one person may not work for others.

How to Behave During an Interview

It's evident that getting a job depends on many factors, among them writing a strong job application and CV or resum6. Your behaviour during an interview, however, is often the best and often the most important stage in getting a job.

Interviews may be conducted by one or by several people.

The interview is an opportunity for the applicant to project his/her personality and convince the interviewers of his/her suitability for the job.

1. Pay attention to the way you are dressed.

When you are properly dressed you demonstrate respect and consideration for those with whom you interact.

Your hairstyle, nails and choice of cosmetics will contribute to your [a]ppearance.

Your clothing should meet the requirements of business style. It's very important that you should feel comfortable in your suit.

2.Be ready to speak about yourself.
Your words should contain something to make people take notice of yuu. Describe briefly your experience at previous jobs and the good results you achieved there.
3. A standard question you may be asked — "Why are you looking for a job?" You should be ready to offer reasons which sound convincing.
4. You should organize your thoughts logically, have self-confidence, and never distort facts or try to persuade people to your way of thinking.
5. You must be ready to answer some unexpected questions: 'What are your strong points?" and "What are your weak points?"
Your speech should be illustrated with clear examples. When speaking about your failures or mistakes be sure to emphasize the conclusion you have drawn after analyzing your failures and what they taught you.
Just remember that the capacity to overcome failures and analyze mistakes is valuable to any company.
6. You may be asked what you can do for the company or how you see your future duties. You should learn as much as possible about the company you are dealing with. If possible, quote concrete figures or examples so that the interviewer will appreciate the extent of your contribution.
7. What salary are you expecting? Think of concrete figures - you should base your answer on the average salary of other employees with your qualification.
8. Be ready for practical tests - if you apply for a job as a salesmanager you may be asked to sell something or to express your opinion about how to settle a conflict in a hypothetical situation.
9. At the end of the interview you may ask some questions. You should enquire about what your future job will entail, what possible difficulties there are in store for you, and what the other staff members arc like.
10. Some more advice:
- Never be late. Even if you come too early, it is better to walk around outside than to bother the interviewer about what you should do for the next 20-15 minutes.
- Remember that your speech should be more than mere words. How you speak sometimes is not as important as what you say.
- Be yourself —just speak the way you speak with your friends. Try to overcome your nervousness. You can learn to control your nervousness rather than let it get the better of you. Try to accept nervousness as a natural way of helping you to be alert and do your best. Remember it is normal and natural for you to be a little nervous. As you speak, smile and try to change your facial expression to convey the emotions that you feel. A smile coupled with good posture can work wonders.
- Much attention should be paid to eye contact. You should not look at the floor or at the ceiling. Look into the eyes of the people you are talking to. Your speech is certain to be enthusiastic and lively.
Now think what kind of person you are.

Exercise 6. Discuss how to behave during an interview. The text «How to Behave During an Interview» can help you.

Negotiations

Negotiations are complex because one is dealing with both facts and people. It is clear that negotiators above all must have a good understanding of a subject. They must be aware of the company`s general policy, initial bargaining position as well as fallback position.

However, awareness of these facts may not necessarily suffice to reach the agreement. The role of human factor must be taken into account. The approach and strategy in negotiations are influenced by cool, clear logical analyses. But the personal needs of the actors must therefore be considered. These needs might include the need for friendship, goodwill, credibility, recognition of status and authority, a desire to be appreciated and promoted as well as the need to get home earlier on Friday evening.

Researches, who have studied negotiations, recommend separate people from facts. Moreover, while negotiations indirect and impersonal forms should be used. Furthermore, a really tough negotiator should be hard on the facts but soft on the people.

Language also varies according to negotiating style adopted: it can be either a co-operative or a competitive mode. Cooperative style is based on win-win principles when both parties want to benefit from the deal. This style is often accepted within one company or between companies with longstanding relations when common goals are being pursued.

Competitive negotiation style can be appropriate for one-off contracts when the aim is to get the best results possible without considering future relations and risks of the breakdown of negotiations. Moreover, the language can become hostile and threatening.

In reality negotiations are a complex mode of co-operative and competitive styles. Negotiating successfully implies dealing with four main components of negotiations: people, facts, co-operation and competition.

History of Trade

Trading is as old as mankind. The early civilizations of Mesopotamia or Egypt traded among themselves and with other people. Gradually, trade routes developed over land and sea. These were used to transport spices, salt, minerals and jewels over great distances.

In the 15th century Europeans started exploring the seas to find new trade routes to Asia. The Portuguese explored the coast of Africa, the Spanish, English and French set across the Atlantic and founded colonies in the New World.

In the 1700s the Industrial Revolution began in Great Britain. During the following two centuries it became the most powerful trading nation in the world. The British sold goods to its colonies and received raw materials from them.

During this era governments did not interfere much with free trade. As a result many owners became very rich. They kept all the money themselves and paid workers badly. In the first half of the 20th century World War I and the Great Depression led to the decline of world trade. Many governments introduced new plans to help their own companies' workers.

After the Second World War the big countries of the free world tried to improve free trade. Some have formed trading blocs that trade freely. The biggest of them are the European Union, NAFTA and South America's Mercosur. About 150 countries are members of the World Trade Organization, an institution that sets up rules for world trade.

Exercise 2. Read and translate the text.

Trade

Trade happens because people need or want things that they don't have. We also trade for work that we cannot do ourselves. Trade between countries happens for the same reason. Some countries, for example, have natural resources, like coal, oil or wood which other countries might want to buy. They try to sell the goods, products or services that they have too much of to other countries. They earn money from these sales and then can buy the things that they themselves need and cannot produce on their own.

Both producers and consumers profit from international trade. If countries can produce goods more cheaply than others because they specialize on them why not let them. They make more money on one side and consumers in other countries can buy goods that are cheaper.

Even though many nations have a lot of different goods to export there are countries that depend only on one or two products to get money. Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and other countries of the Middle East depend on oil exports, because it is pretty much the only thing that they can sell. Poor countries in Africa depend largely on the export of tropical farm products to get money.

Each year goods and services worth about 11 trillion dollars ($ 11 000 000 000 000) are traded all over the world. The biggest exporting nations are

The United States, France, Germany, the United Kingdom, Canada and Japan.

The difference between what a country exports and what it imports is called the balance of trade. If a country exports more than it imports we call this a trade surplus. And if a country pays more for its imports than it gets for its exports it has a trade deficit.

Exercise 3. Answer the questions.

1. Why do people trade?
2. Why is international trading very important?
3. Who gets profit from international trade?
4. What are the biggest exporting countries?
5. What is the balance of trade?

Exercise 4. Write an essay on the theme «Why do we trade?»

History of Advertising

To advertise means to make information public. But nowadays advertising doesn't limit itself by a word 'publicity'. Modern advertising has a task to show a product in a positive and pleasant way. It has an aim to make us want to buy it. But how and when did advertising appear?

The advertisement has existed since antiquity time. At first there were murals that informed about gladiator fights. In the middle Ages public heralds stood in the centre of the city and gave last news.

In the 15th century there was a good development of printing. After that posters and leaflets appeared. Two centuries later the first newspapers began to publish advertisements. But it is the 20th century when advertising really explodes. It followed the invention of radio and TV.

In the United States companies have worked with advertisers since 1930. They invented packaging that had to attract customers. They also created an idea of product placement. It means that a product is shown in the movies. After that it gets well-known and well-sold. For example, it was made with the luxury cars which were shown in James Bond films.

Nowadays the new territory of commercials is Internet with social networks. Small software called cookies allows offering ads according to the tastes of Internet users. Certainly, in the near future the commercial advertising will be personalized for each of us.

Exercise 6. Read the text and fill the gaps with the word combinations.

a) another invention, b) purpose of advertising, c) the more advertisements, d) favourite programs and soaps, e) the best commercial

Advertising is_____ of the 20th century. Some people find it annoying and useless, however, it certainly has its point. Advertising can be found everywhere nowadays: in newspapers, in magazines and brochures, on posters, on radio and TV, in Internet, simply everywhere. The main_____ is to sell the goods. From the other side, it's a really effective way to let the people know about certain products. So it became obvious that businesses will profit from advertising, which is why we have so much of it. It's an interrelated process: the more companies,_____. Advertising is not only the means of information, but also of communication. It's the so-called interaction between clients and service organizations. First reaction to advertising in our country was relatively negative, although later it became a usual media content. TV ads were the most frustrating type of advertising. People were really annoyed when their _____got constantly interrupted by useless ads. Besides, it seemed that they lasted forever. Later people got used to it and now it's a normal thing to watch ads on TV. Moreover, there is a new type of annual award for____ advertisement. One good thing about advertising is certainly the globalization. Today it's easy to watch different commercials from all over the world and to understand what goods are produced in certain countries.

Exercise 1. Read the text and put its paragraphs in the right order.

1. A problem of hierarchies is that people at lower level are unable to make important decision, but have to pass on responsibility to their boss. One solution to this is matrix management, in which people report to more than one superior. For example, a product manager with an idea might be able to deal directly with managers responsible for a certain market segment and for a geographical region, as well as managers responsible for the traditional functions of finance, sales and production.

2. Organizing structure is considered by many to be “the anatomy of the organization”, providing a foundation within which the organization functions”. There can be different kinds of organization structure, and firms can change their organization structure by becoming more or less centralized.

3. Most organizations have a hierarchical or pyramidal structure, with one person or a group of people at the top, and increasing number of people below them at each successive level. All the people in the organization know what decision they are able to make, who their superior (or boss) is (to whom they report), and who their immediate subordinates are (to whom they can give). This structure is one of the simplest and it’s also called a line structure.

4. Yet the activities of most companies are too complicated to be organized in a single hierarchy. Shortly before the First World War, the French industrialist Henry Fayol organized his coal-mining business according to the functions that it had to carry out. He is generally credited with inventing functional organization, including (among others) production, finance, marketing, sales, and personnel or staff departments. The functional type of organization structure reflects an arrangement based on the nature of the activities that must be performed.

Related activities are grouped together in the functional areas with which they are most clearly identified. The chief executive of each area occupies a position on the second level of the organization and generally has the title Vice-President. This means, for example, that the production and marketing departments cannot take financial decisions without consulting the finance department. The functional structure is efficient, but there are two standard criticisms. Firstly, people are usually more concerned with the success of their department than that of the company, so there are permanent battles between, for example, finance and marketing, or marketing and production, which have incompatible goals. Secondly, separating functions is unlikely to encourage innovation.

Exercise 2. Give Russian equivalents.

1) to pass on responsibility
2) to report
3) matrix management
4) to provide a foundation
5) according to the functions
6) staff department

Glimpses of History of Money

At different periods of time and in different parts of the world many different commodities have served as money. These commodities were: cattle, sheep, furs, leather, fish, tobacco, tea, salt, shells etc. The experts underline that to serve effectively as money; a commodity should be fairly durable, easily divisible, and portable. None of the above-mentioned commodities possessed all these qualities, and in time they were superseded by precious metals. First they were superseded by silver and later by gold. When a payment was made the metal was first weighed out. The next stage was the cutting of the metal into pieces of definite weight and so coins came into use.

Paper money first came into use in the form of receipts given by goldsmiths in exchange for deposits of silver and gold coins. After goldsmiths became bankers their receipts became banknotes. That's how the first banknotes came into existence. At first coins were worth their face value as metal. But later token coins of limited value as legal tender were issued. Now smaller denomination coins are made from bronze and are often referred to as coppers. Bigger denomination coins are made from cupronickel and are usually called silver.

Exercise 2. Answer the questions to the text.

1. What commodities served as money in the past?
2. What are the requirements of a commodity to serve as money?
3. Why did precious metals start to serve as money?
4. What precious metal was used first to serve as money?
5. What precious metal was used then?
6. How did coins come into existence?
7. How did paper banknotes come into existence?
8. What coins are called silver?
9. What are coppers?

Exercise 3. Translate the words into Russian.

Face value, legal tender, a new issue, cutting of the metal into pieces, paper money, in exchange for deposits, bigger denominations coins.

Exercise 4. Put the necessary words into the gaps.

When a payment was made the metal was fist _____ out. But later token coins of limited value as _____ _____ were issued. Now smaller denomination _____ are made from bronze. In time they were superseded by precious _____. First they were _____ by silver and later by gold.

Exercise 5. Speak about: the money in the past; the way banknotes appeared; the metals of which coins were and are made; the silver coins and coppers.

Exercise 6. Read and translate the texts.

The dollar

The dollar is the basic unit of United States money. It is worth 100 cents. Its symbol is $. So, $1-00 means one dollar. The dollar is also the main currency unit of: Australia, Canada, Jamaica, New Zealand, Singapore, Zimbabwe and some other countries. The dollar was adopted in the USA in 1792. The first US dollars were issued in silver and gold. After 1934, however, all gold coins were taken out of circulation. A silver dollar was issued at various times from 1794 until 1935. The dollar was adopted in Canada in 1878. Australia adopted the dollar in 1966, and New Zealand in 1967.

The pound

The basic unit of money of the United Kingdom is the pound, also called the pound sterling. The symbol of Britain's pound sterling is £. Today the pound is equal to 100 pence. The British adopted the decimal system in 1971. Things were far more complicated in the past. The pound was subdivided into 20 shillings. The shilling was subdivided into 12 pennies. The guinea was equal to one pound one shilling. It was a gold coin used in fixing prices of valuable goods. There also were crowns, 5-shilling silver coins; half-crowns worth 2 shillings and 6 pence; florins, 2-shilling silver pieces; bobs worth 12 pence. A sixpence was a 6-penny coin and a 3-penny piece was called a "three pence". There also were "ha'pennies", copper coins, worth half a penny, and farthings, or quarter-penny copper coins. You may ask what you need to know all this for. Perhaps you don't have to remember any of it. Unless, of course, you collect coins. Or read the great works of English literature.

The shilling

The shilling is a unit of currency formerly used in Austria, the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand, United States and other British Commonwealth countries. Currently the shilling is used as a currency in four east African countries: Kenya (Kenyan shilling), Tanzania (Tanzanian shilling), Uganda (Ugandan shilling) and Somalia (Somali shilling). It is also the proposed currency that the east African community plans to introduce (east African shilling). The word shilling comes from old English "Scilling", a monetary term meaning twentieth of a pound, and from the ProtoGermanic root skiljaną meaning 'to separate, split, divide.' The word "Scilling" is mentioned in the earliest recorded Germanic law codes, those of Æthelberht of Kent. Slang terms for the old shilling coins include "bob" and "hog". While the derivation of "bob" is uncertain, John Camden Hotten in his 1864 Slang Dictionary says the original version was "bobstick" and speculates that it may be connected with Sir Robert Walpole. One abbreviation for shilling is s (for solidus, see £sd). Often it was represented by a solidus symbol ("/"), which may have originally stood for a long s or ſ, thus 1/9 would be one shilling and ninepence (and equivalent to 21d; the shilling itself was equal to 12d). A price with no pence was sometimes written with a solidus and a dash: 11/–. The solidus symbol is still used for the Kenyan shilling (one of the successors to East African shilling), rather than sh.

Exercise 7. Answer the questions.

Main rules of negotiations

One of the most important practices to which office workers may face on a daily basis, is the ability to negotiate (ability to negotiate). What is the talks (negotiations)? The idea is that this solution to the conflict (resolution of conflict). We are starting negotiations (enter negotiations) in order to start (to start) or continue (continue) the business relationship (relationship), and to resolve the issue (resolve an issue). Even when we act on your first job, or start a career (begin career), we learn to negotiate.

Main rules of negotiations:

1) Always try to continue the negotiations for at least 15 minutes. If negotiations are held in less time, the parties are unlikely to form a correct opinion about each other. Usually, the seriousness of the negotiations determines the period of time necessary for discussion. Approximately 90% of the questions are solved in the last 10% of discussion.

2) Always offer the other side to speak first. This is especially important if you ask the chief to raise wages. Your boss may reevaluate the situation and offer you more than you are going to ask.

3) Always show respect and listen to what your opponent says. This is important, even if he or she does not exhibit the same courtesy towards you. Do everything to remain calm and courteous, even if the other party shows signs of irritation or anger. Remember that some people deliberately try to intimidate or provoke you.

4) Confirm that says the opposite side. Everyone likes to know that what they say - it is important. If the other party starts talking first to use this advantage to remember what you heard. Be aware of important ideas before you present your arguments.

5) Keep track of your and other people's gestures. We will help you to deal with sign language later. To restrain from negative sign.

For one talks begin with a discussion of cash benefits (allowance), issued by the parents, for another - with a dispute with a brother or sister about what TV show would look. Some people are strong negotiators from nature (naturally stronger negotiators) and are able to more easily achieve the desired result. Not being able to negotiate, people stop relations (break off relationships), leave from work (quit jobs), or deliberately avoid conflict situations.

The global ecological problems caused by the rapid technological progress

Since ancient times Nature has served Man, being the source of his life. For thousands of years people lived in harmony with environment and it seemed to them that natural riches were unlimited. But with the development of civilization man's interference in nature began to increase.

Large cities with thousands of smoky industrial enterprises appear all over the world today. The by-products of their activity pollute the air we breathe, the water we drink, the land we grow grain and vegetables on.

Every year world industry pollutes the atmosphere with about 1000 million tons of dust and other harmful substances. Many cities suffer from smog. Vast forests are cut and burn in fire. Their disappearance upsets the oxygen balance. As a result some rare species of animals, birds, fish and plants disappear forever, a number of rivers and lakes dry up.

The pollution of air and the world's ocean, destruction of the ozone layer is the result of man's careless interaction with nature, a sign of the ecological crisis.

Environmental protection is of a universal concern. That is why serious measures to create a system of ecological security should be taken. Some progress has been already made in this direction. As many as 159 countries - members of the UNO - have set up environmental protection agencies. Numerous conferences have been held by these agencies to discuss problems facing ecologically poor regions including the Aral Sea, the South Urals, Kuzbass, Donbass, Semipalatinsk and Chernobyl. An international environmental research centre has been set up on Lake Baikal. The international organization Greenpeace is also doing much to preserve the environment.

But these are only the initial steps and they must be carried onward to protect nature, to save life on the planet not only for the sake of the present but also for the future generations.

Exercise 2. Translate the sentences into English, using the text «The global ecological problems caused by the rapid technological progress».

1. С древних времен природа служит человеку, являясь источником его жизни. Тысячи лет люди жили в гармонии с окружающей средой. И им казалось, что природные богатства неисчерпаемы.
2. Побочные продукты их деятельности загрязняют воздух, которым мы дышим, воду, которую мы пьем, землю, на которой мы выращиваем пшеницу и овощи.
3. В результате некоторые редкие виды животных, птиц, рыб и растений навсегда исчезают. Высыхают многие реки и озера.
4. Защита окружающей среды — всеобщая забота.
5. Надо двигаться вперед, защищая природу, сохраняя жизнь на планете, не только ради настоящего, но и для будущих поколений.

Exercise 3. Answer the following questions:

1. How did people live for thousands of years? 2. What cities appear all over the world today? 3. What pollutes the air we breathe? 4. What is the result of air pollution? 5. Why is environmental protection of a universal concern? 6. What are the initial steps in this direction?

Exercise 4. Read and translate the text.

The environmental problems of Kuzbass

One of the most burning problems of contemporary life is the ecological situation on the planet of Earth. In fact, cities and towns, industrial complexes and enterprises cover the world like a huge net, absorbing the air and polluting the atmosphere at great extends. The smoky industrial monsters have become the threat to the water we drink, the air we breathe, the land we grow grain and vegetables on. Kuzbass is an important integral part of Russian industrial system, its coal is often called “the black gold” of Russia. The mining industry gets along with automobile and textile branches, chemistry and ferro-metallurgy. It’s not for nothing that the population of the region realizes how dangerous it is to develop industries without caring for the environmental situation. Statistics proves that every year world industry pollutes the atmosphere with about 1000 million tons of dust and other harmful substances. Many cities suffer from smog. Vast forests are cut and burn in fire. Their disappearance upsets the oxygen balance. As a result some rare species of animals, birds, fish and plants disappear forever, a number of rivers and lakes dry up. The pollution of air and the world's ocean, destruction of the ozone layer is the result of man's careless interaction with nature, a sign of the ecological crisis.

As far as Kuzbass is concerned, the facts are also alarming: more than 1,5 million tons of industrial dust pollute the atmosphere of the region we live in. It is equal to 60 per cent of the same industrial wastes of the joint territory of Novosibirsk, Tomsk and the Altai regions.

If you happen to visit Novokuznetsk some day you will find it hard to breathe, because the air is heavy with the industrial wastes of the great metallurgy plants the city is famous for.

The coal mining territories add to the pollution of the air and water; even snow in winter looks dirty and poisoned.

The chemical industry of Kuzbass is no less dangerous for human health, the unburned waste makes breathing difficult.

One shouldn't forget the transport in the region, which is quite numerous. The roads are heavy day and night, the pollution increases and the whole wild life is the victim.

Exercise 5. Enlarge the statements with facts and arguments:

1. One of the most burning problems of contemporary life is the ecological situation on the planet of Earth.
2. Statistics claims that every year world industry pollutes the atmosphere.
3. Kuzbass is an integral part of Russian industrial system.
4. As far as Kuzbass concerned the data are also alarming.
5. The main threat to nature comes from the human activity.
6. Still, much can be done to save the planet from the environmental catastrophe.

Tom: Hi, Anna! Yes, he's been a miner for five years. He says there are both advantages and disadvantages.

Anna: What are the main advantages?

Tom: Well, miners usually get a high salary and good benefits. The job can also be exciting and different every day, especially for those who like adventure and don’t want a typical office job. There are also opportunities to travel and work in different countries.

Anna: That sounds interesting! But I’ve heard mining is dangerous.
Tom: That’s true. The work is physically demanding and risky. There’s always a chance of accidents, and miners often work underground in tough conditions with little sunlight. Many develop health problems, especially with their lungs, because of dust and chemicals.
Anna: Are there any other disadvantages?
Tom: Yes, job security can be an issue, especially for those without special skills. The work can also be stressful and isolating, with long shifts far from family. Some people even develop claustrophobia or mental health problems.
Anna: So, it’s a well-paid job, but it comes with serious risks.
Tom: Exactly. It’s not for everyone, but some people really love the challenge and the rewards.
Anna: Thanks for sharing, Tom! That was very informative.

Job Interview

- Good morning, Miss Jones. So you applied for a job in our team. Am I right?
- Yes, I did. I sent my resume for a position of a restaurant manager.
- That`s good. I`d like to know a bit more about you. Probably you could tell us about your education first.

- Well, I left school at 17 and then for the next five years I studied at Kazan Federal University. I graduated the Department of economics with high honors and was qualified as a manager of enterprise. And after that I did a one-year computer course.
- Well. Your education sounds great, Miss Jones. And have you got any experience? Have you worked before?
- Certainly. First I worked as a manager at children's clothes shop. I stayed there for four years and then I moved on to my present company. They offered me a job of a manager in a big cafe.
- That`s very interesting. Why aren't you happy with your present job, Miss Jones? Why are you going to leave them?
- Well. The salary isn't so bad, I must admit. But the work schedule isn't convenient for me. And I often do a lot of overtime there. Besides you have an excellent reputation and I hope to have more opportunity and growth potential in your company.
- I see. Do you mind business trips? And are you fluent in Italian or German?
- Oh, foreign languages are my favorites. We did Italian and German at the University and I use them when I travel.
- Very good. Can you tell me about your good points then?
- Well… I start my work on time. I learn rather quickly. I am friendly and I am able to work under pressure in a busy company.
- OK. That's enough I think. Well, Miss Jones. Thank you very much. I am pleased to talk to you and we shall inform you about the result of our interview in a few days. Good-bye.

So how did you solve the problem?

We changed the delivery and suggested them a discount on the following dispatch. Now our total turnover is over 2 billion dollars. It is 5% higher than what we expected.

That is a good outcome. Are they going to sign a contract for the next year deliveries?

Yes, they certainly will. They are happy with our delivery terms and payments. And what is more, we are discussing their new project now.

So, we gathered here to discuss budget planning for the next year expenditures. What I want to underline is that basing on the latest research we are going to face some financial difficulties. So we need to prepare and cut the budget.

First of all, I would like to say that no redundancy will take place. We are staffed better than ever before. All our employees correspond to the required level and do their job well. Besides, we cannot cut down production financing. As even a small decrease in the quality of raw materials largely results in the goods quality.

So what is going to be cut down is the marketing budget. I appreciate what marketing department does for the company. What is more, I realize that this is going to create huge difficulties for the marketers. But we all understand what will happen if we don't do this way.
